To Whom It May Concern:

After years of shredding our own documents, putting up with the frequent over flows, the stacked bags of shredded paper waiting disposal there had to be a simpler more efficient method.

I contacted New Zealand Document Destruction Services and they eliminated all the problems. The service they provide just happens. The full bin is removed and an empty one takes it place. No contact, no worries, no hassles.

The cost is far less than the time, effort and expense incurred before.
